The mining stock market was not very bouyant today, particularly during the forenoon calls, when 24,000 shares sold for $1,628.38. Accordingly, prices were down and the general tendency was towards weakness. There was some selling of Carisa at 6 cents a share. May Day also displayed some activity at 21/2 cents, but the stock is not very attractive to anyone just now. Sacramento began with 500 shares going a 14%, but the price afterwards weakened, closing with 13 cents bid. No Park City stocks entered into the transactions of the forenoon. Daly was left with a quotation even with yesterday. Daly-Judge closed slightly weaker, and Daly-West was not in quite as good form as earlier in the week. Uncle Sam Consolidated was attractive to the extent of 3,200 shares, the amount transferred during the semilar. ferred during the regular and open board calls.

UTAH CON. SMELTER.

Enlarged Plant Will Go Into Commis sion Tomorrow Morning.

The new smelter equipment of the Utah Consolidated Mining company, which has been installed at an expense approximating $250,000, will go into commission tomorrow morning. This is positive, said Manager R. H. Channing today. The starting of the enlarged plant will furnish employment for fifty additional men at the mine and smelter. These have been provided for and tomorrow the pay rolls of the company will contain the names of about 300 persons.

persons.

The output of the mine will be increased from 500 to 800 tons daily. The smelter, during last year, produced almost 13,000,000 pounds of copper at a cost of 5.2 cents per pound. During the previous year the cost was 5.7 cents per pound, and the production was under 12,000,000 pounds. Lately the plant pounds weekly. With the increased facilities the Utah Consolidated should produce at least 20,500,600 pounds of copper during the next fiscal year. The present equipment of the smelter consists of twenty McDougal roasters and nine reverberatory furnaces; an increase of twelve McDougals and two reverberatories over the old equipment. The company will distribute its regular semi-annual dividend of $1.50 per share, or $450,000, next month. Probably the next one will be considerably in excess of this amount. LEASES A MILL

This board was composed of three members of the old engineer corps, and it has given long, exhaustive and patient study to the problem.

Its report just submitted points out some dangers and difficulties that exist, but shows that a great many of the supposed embarrassments in the use of oil as fuel, particularly on shipboard, have been done away with. A slightly-refined petroleum gives better results. The mill at Manning, the plant operated by the old original Mercur company, has been leased by the Consolirefined petroleum gives better results, it is found, than the crude product, and for steamships—especially on long voyages—the oil should undergo some mild distillation before being stored aboardship. As far as the strictly engineering or mechanical problem goes, the board says that this has already been "practically and satisfactorily solved." Some hindrance to the general use of fuel-oil still remain as regards manufacturing and mercantile purposes—such as the supply and transportation features, for instance, and in merchant ships these hindrances limit the use of oil quite considerably; and three difficulties still to be overcome are encountered in the running of vessels of war with fuel-oil; these are chiefly the danger of ignition from the discharge of guns and from the use of oil lights the crew's lower-deck quarters and the matter of ventilation. Notwithstanding these, the board advances the very positive opinion that with the use of oil "the forcing of a marine boiler should be much more readily accomplished than with the use of coal," and that "ne difficulty should dated Mercur company to W. This was the information released today by General Manager George H. Dern of the Consolidated Mercur com-

The old dump goes with the mill and the lessees believe they see a profitable summer's work ahead of them in working over the tailings. According to Mr. Dern the dump contains about 600,-000 tons. One half of this has been worked over, but the balance probably carries average values of $2 a ton. The lessees believe they can handle the material for not to exceed 50 cents a ton. They are confident they can make a very close saving, thus leaving them very satisfactory returns after paying expenses including the royalty exacted by the company in the contract entered
